Medicaid HealthWatch Program
Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis and Treatment (EPSDT)

EPSDT is pediatric preventive care for Indiana children and young adults. EPSDT stands for Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis and Treatment. The program is designed to improve the overall health of Medicaid eligible children by ensuring that they get the medical screening and testing they need to help prevent and/or find out about childhood diseases and illnesses early.

Who Qualifies
All Medicaid enrolled individuals from birth to twenty-one (21) years of age may participate in the EPSDT program.

Early and Periodic Screening
To keep your children healthy, regular EPSDT screenings should be scheduled with your child’s regular doctor (PMP). Visits should be scheduled at the following intervals:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Under 1 Month</th>
<th>2 Months</th>
<th>4 Months</th>
<th>6 Months</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>9 Months</td>
<td>12 Months</td>
<td>15 Months</td>
<td>18 Months</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>24 Months</td>
<td>30 Months</td>
<td></td>
<td>Annually from ages 3 to 21</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

➢ Call your regular doctor to schedule a checkup. If you cannot keep your appointment, call the doctor’s office and cancel. Reschedule the checkup as soon as possible.
➢ Be sure to bring your Hoosier Health Card with you to the appointment, along with your child’s shot record.

Your child’s regular doctor will provide the following services during an EPSDT visit:

- A complete unclothed physical exam
- Complete health history, including physical, developmental, nutrition and mental health assessment.
- Immunizations (shots)
- Laboratory tests, including blood lead and urine screens
- Vision, hearing and dental screenings
- Preventive health education
- Developmental and nutritional checks

What to Expect During an EPSDT Visit:
Your child’s regular doctor will use these visits to make sure that your child is healthy and developing well. Your child will get a physical exam along with hearing, vision, or other screening tests. Your doctor may ask questions such as:

- “How does your baby respond to new people?”
- “How many hours does your child sleep at night?”
- “How is school going?”
- “How does your child handle stress?”
- “How are things going with your child’s therapy program?”
There will also be time for you to ask questions and discuss your concerns and for your child to talk directly to their provider. These visits are the perfect time to ask your health care provider’s advice including:

- “Does my child need any shots at this time?”
- “How often does my child need to see the dentist?”
- “If I need help after office hours, what can I do?”
- “How often do you test for lead poisoning?”

An EPSDT visit is also a great time to have school, sports, or camp physicals completed.

Diagnosis and Treatment

EPSDT checkups may help your child’s doctor find and treat health conditions before they become more serious. The physician will perform diagnostic tests to follow up when a risk is identified. If a test result detects a problem, your child’s Medicaid coverage pays for medically necessary treatment services. Your child’s regular doctor may provide treatment, or refer your child to a specialist for follow-up care. If a treatment maintains a child’s current condition or makes it easier for a child to live with that condition, in general it must be covered by EPSDT. Treating the problems found without delay/early intervention can improve outcomes.

What if Treatment is Denied?

Treatment under EPSDT must be medically necessary, a Medicaid-covered service, and provided by an approved provider. If your child has a service denied, you will receive written notification of denial, along with instructions for appeal.
